Build a Meaningful Career Where Clinicians Matter

Pointe North Psychology Group (PNPG) is seeking a compassionate, motivated, and clinically skilled clinician to join our established private practice in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

For more than 30 years, PNPG has provided individualized mental health care and developed a strong reputation within the community and professional referral network. We offer clinicians the opportunity to build a rewarding career in a welcoming, supportive environment while benefiting from an established source of patient referrals.

We believe exceptional patient care begins with recognizing each individual as unique. We extend that same philosophy to our clinicians by respecting professional autonomy, supporting clinical judgment, and encouraging continued professional growth.
